

FEBRUARY 2002

This monthly newsletter is designed to facilitate communication within the College of Education, and between the College and its friends. Comments, questions, and notices for future issues can be directed to Michele Uskoski at (509) 332-6866, or at the WSU College of Education, Pullman, WA 99164-2114, or by e-mail to muskoski@hotmail.com. More information on College of Education programs can be found on the internet, using the World Wide Web, <http://education.wsu.edu>

College of Education

B U L L E T I N

CONNECTIONS

Judy Nichols Mitchell, dean, announced that twenty College of Education students received the President's Award recognizing their excellence in student leadership and service to WSU and the community. The students are: Jamie Arness, Brenda Betancourt, Pollyanna V. Casmar, Melissa Davis, Bruce Fleming, Julie Frei, Marnie Hartill, Dina J. Ibarra, David M. Joyce, Susan Montague, Laurie Moynihan, Dana Myers, Alison Marie Neal, Steven Nettles, Jenna R. Newcomb, David M. Niemeyer, W. Matthew Silvers, Jamaica Vandolah, and Jill M. Weiman. CONTACT: Mitchell at judym@wsu.edu or at 509-335-4853.

Forrest W. Parkay, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, conducted two workshops for a cohort of 14 doctoral students in educational administration at Khon Kaen University (KKU) in Thailand. The workshops were titled: "English Writing for Educational Leaders" and "Theories in Educational Administration." CONTACT: Parkay at fwparkay@wsu.edu or at 509-335-9570.

Amy Roth McDuffie, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning at WSU Tri-Cities, received a $5,000.00 Faculty Seed Grant for the 2001-2002 school year from the office of the Vice Provost for Research at WSU. McDuffie's project is titled: "Investigating the Efficacy of Performance Assessment Training for Teachers." CONTACT: McDuffie at mcduffie@tricity.wsu.edu or at 509-372-7384.

Cathy Claussen, Sue Durrant, and Jo Washburn, faculty in sport management in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, attended the Winter Olympic Games in Salt Lake City, Utah. They explain that this was a tremendous opportunity to observe and to experience the organization and management of this complex international sporting event and will provide first hand information to enhance the preparation of their students for sport management careers. CONTACT: Claussen at claussen@wsu.edu or at 509-335-7232.

Colleen (Kelly) Muller, a Master in Teaching student at WSU Spokane, is the 2001-2002 recipient of the Washington State University Spokane Scholarship. She receives a total of $3,000.00. CONTACT: Muller at cjmuller@wsu.edu or at 509-922-6508.

Judy Nichols Mitchell, dean, announced that two Ph.D graduates in counseling psychology, Ronette Goodwin and Y'Lang Dong, were specially honored at the May 2001 commencement. They were seated in the front row at commencement. President Rawlins acknowledged them during the ceremony for their special efforts during their academic careers. CONTACT: Mitchell at judym@wsu.edu or at 509-335-4853.

Anne Kannegaard, CO-TEACH assistant, announced the recipients for the 2000-2001 Faculty Collaboration Mini Grant. This year's faculty team includes: Dr. Paul Hirt, College of Liberal Arts; Norm Turnipseed, College of Liberal Arts; Donna Turnipseed, College of Liberal Arts; Jan Super, North West Indian College and Dr. Susan Banks, College of Education. CONTACT: Kannegaard at annek@wsu.edu or at 509-335-6842.

Forrest W. Parkay, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, met with the assistant president for planning at Prince of Songkla University (PSU), Thailand, to provide assistance in developing a new doctoral program in educational administration at PSU. The College of Education has formal Memorandum of Agreements with three universities in Thailand. CONTACT: Parkay at fwparkay@wsu.edu or at 509-335-9570.

World Class. Face to Face.

Judy Nichols Mitchell, dean, presented the following awards to faculty and staff at the May 11, 2001, All-College meeting: Lynda Paznokas, Boeing Distinguished Professor of Science Education, received the College of Education Faculty Excellence Award for teaching; Mimi Wolverton, associate professor, received the College of Education Faculty Excellence Award for Research. The College of Education Faculty Excellence Award for Service was awarded to the five co-principal investigators directing the CO-TEACH project statewide: Dawn Shinew, assistant professor; Tariq Akmal, assistant professor; Michael Pavel, associate professor; Gerald Maring, professor; and Merrill Oaks, professor. Barb Smith, fiscal technician, received the College of Education Staff Excellence Award. CONTACT: Mitchell at judym@wsu.edu or at 509-335-4853.

Forrest W. Parkay, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, received a $130,000 grant from the U.S. Department of State for a project titled: "University Partners for Academic Leadership (UPAL)." The UPAL project is a linkage program between the College of Education and nine universities in Thailand. UPAL will sponsor a three-week Leadership Institute at WSU, May 12-31, 2002. The UPAL web site is at www.educ.wsu.edu/thaipartner/upal/ CONTACT: Parkay at fwparkay@wsu.edu or at 509-335-9570.

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning and director of WSU's PT3 teach.edu initiative, announced the recipients of the Faculty Technology Integration Support Awards program. The purpose of the program is to provide WSU faculty with funding support for professional activity and development or continued development in educational technology as it relates to teacher education. The College of Education recipients included Darcy Miller, Lynda Paznokas, Lenore Schmidt, Anne Campbell, Amy Roth McDuffie, Richard Sawyer, Valarie Akerson, Terrell Young, Joy Egbert and Marisol Rodriguez-Price. Five faculty from WSU College of Sciences and seven faculty from WSU College of Liberal Arts were also recipients. CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.

HONORS

Judy Nichols Mitchell, dean, congratulates the College of Education's Lentil Parade entry and all those who made it possible. The entry won the Tasty Lentil Award. CONTACT: Mitchell at judym@wsu.edu or at 509-335-4853.

Forrest W. Parkay, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, received a Fulbright Senior Specialist grant to conduct a workshop titled: "Dissertation Proposal Preparation" at Khon Kaen University (KKU) in Thailand. Parkay is among the first grantees under the new Fulbright Senior Specialists short-term grants program. This program offers grants to leading U.S. academics and professionals to support developing academic institutions in 140 countries and to advance mutual understanding, establish long-term cooperation and create opportunities for institutional linkages. CONTACT: Parkay at fwparkay@wsu.edu or at 509-335-9570.

Eboni K. Wilson, doctoral student in education, was introduced by WSU President Rawlins as an outstanding student at WSU's first fall commencement in December 2001. CONTACT: Wilson at beannl@wsu.edu or at 509-335-0935.

Tim Church, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, has been appointed an associate editor for the Journal of Cross-Cultural Psychology. CONTACT: Church at church@mail.wsu.edu or at 509-335-0927.

Arreed Barabasz, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, was elected President-elect of the American Psychological Association's Division of Psychological Hypnosis (Div 30). Barabasz's President-elect term began at the APA National Convention in San Francisco in August and the presidential term will begin in August 2002. CONTACT: Barabasz at arreed_barabasz@wsu.edu or at 509-335-8166.

E. Carolyn Johnson, assistant professor of exercise science, has been appointed an adjunct research scientist at The Heart Institute of Spokane (THIS). This appointment solidifies a collaboration that has been established between Dr. Johnson and Katherine Tuttle, M.D. of THIS while Dr. Johnson moves to WSU Spokane in the summer of 2002. CONTACT: Johnson at ecarolj@mail.wsu.edu or at 509-335-5029.

Tim Church, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, was guest editor for a special issue of the Journal of Personality entitled "Culture and Personality." Articles in the special issue address culture and personality approaches; individualism-collectivism and personality; personality measurement in cross-cultural perspective; and methodological issues in cross-cultural psychology. CONTACT: Church at church@mail.wsu.edu or at 509-335-0927.

PUBLICATIONS

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, authored an article entitled:

"Making Better Use of Technology by Creating a Personal Taxonomy of Instructional Media," in September/October 2001 edition of The Clearing House: A Journal of Educational Strategies, Issues and Ideas. (pp14-17) CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.

Cathy Claussen, assistant professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, co-authored an article entitled: "The Gambling Industry and Sports Gambling: A Stake in the Game?" The article is published in the Journal of Sport Management, 15(4), 350-363. CONTACT: Claussen at claussen@wsu.edu or at 509-335-7232.

Anne Campbell, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, authored an article entitled: "Using Values Orientations to Understand the Role of Culture in Cross-Cultural Communication." The article appears in Patricia Rice and David McCurdy (eds.) "Strategies in Teaching Anthropology" second edition. Upper Saddle River, NJ: Prentice Hall pp139-146. CONTACT: Campbell at acampbell@wsu.edu or at 509-335-5015.

Forrest W. Parkay, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, co-authored "Educational Psychology Cases," second edition (Merrill Prentice Hall, 2002). CONTACT: Parkay at fwparkay@wsu.edu or at 509-335-9570.

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, authored an article entitled: "Poodles, Borg and Bungee Jumpers: The Development of a Taxonomy of Student Types Encountered in an Introductory Instructional Media Production Course." The article appears in the Journal of Technology and Teacher Education (Vol.9 No.3 2001). CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.

Cathy Claussen, assistant professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, co-authored an article entitled: "Online Sports Gambling—regulation or prohibition?" The article appears in the Journal of Legal Aspects of Sport, 11 (2), 99-134. CONTACT: Claussen at claussen@wsu.edu or at 509-335-7232.

Forrest W. Parkay, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, co-authored an article entitled: "Becoming a Teacher, 5th Edition, FlexChoice Version," published in 2002 by Allyn and Bacon. CONTACT: Parkay at fwparkay@wsu.edu or at 509-335-9570.

Tim Church, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, authored an article entitled: "Personality Measurement in Cross-Cultural Perspective." The article appears in the Journal of Personality (vol. 69, 980-1007). CONTACT: Church at church@mail.wsu.edu or at 509-335-0927.

Terrell Young, associate professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning at WSU Tri-Cities, co-authored a book entitled: "Literature-based Instruction with English Language Learners, K-12." The book was published by New York: Allyn and Bacon Longman. CONTACT: Young at tyoung@tricity.wsu.edu or at 509-372-7233.

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, Darcy Miller, associate professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning and LeAnne Robinson, doctoral student in the Department of Teaching and Learning, co-authored an article entitled: "Developing and Producing Knowledge Objects for Classroom Settings: Wazzu Widgets." The article appears in Learning Technologies Newsletter, and online Journal of Technologies. CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.

Gerald Maring, professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, co-authored an article entitled: "Cybermentoring: The Relationship between Preservice Teachers' use of Online Literacy Strategies and Student Achievement." The article appears at Reading Online, 4(10). CONTACT: Maring at maring@wsu.edu or at 509-335-5651.

Tim Church, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, and Donna Scott, graduate of the counseling psychology doctoral program, co-authored an article entitled: "Separation/Attachment Theory and Career Decidedness and Commitment: Effects of Parental Divorce." The article appears in the Journal of Vocational Behavior (vol. 58, 328-347). CONTACT: Church at church@mail.wsu.edu or at 509-335-0927.

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, co-authored an article entitled: "Guidelines for Multimedia Production Projects." The article appears in the Winter issue of EDUCAUSE Quarterly (2001, Vol. 24, #4). CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.

Gerald Maring, professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, co-authored an article entitled: "Service-Learning for Teacher Preparation in Rural Areas," in Part 2: Research on Service Learning in Preservice Teacher Education of Anderson, J.B., Swick, K.J., and Joost, Yff (Eds.) Service-Learning in Teacher Education: Enhancing the Growth of New Teachers, Their Students, and Communities. CONTACT: Maring at maring@wsu.edu or at 509-335-5651.

Forrest W. Parkay, professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling Psychology, co-authored an article entitled: "Toward Collaborative School Leadership in Thailand: The Relationship between Thai Cultural Identity and Teacher-Administrator Interactions." The article appears in the International Journal of Educational Reform, Vol. 10, No.

1, January 2001, pp. 34-45. CONTACT: Parkay at fwparkay@wsu.edu or at 509-335-9570.

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, authored an article entitled: "Supporting and Increasing University Faculty Use of Computers as Teaching Tools: Geek Week!" The article appears in the July issue of Learning Technology Newsletter. CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.

Amy Roth McDuffie, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning at WSU Tri-Cities, authored an article entitled: "Flying Through Graphs: An Exploration in Graph Theory." The article appeared in Mathematics Teacher, 94 (8), 680-689. It was also printed in the Focus Issue of Connections in Mathematics. CONTACT: McDuffie at mcduffie@tricity.wsu.edu or at 509-372-7384.

PRESENTATIONS/CONFERENCES

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, and Darcy Miller, associate professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, co-presented a paper entitled: "The Creation of Learning Objects for Students with Mild Mental Retardation: A Case Study of Creating Knowledge Objects for K-12 Classrooms." The roundtable presentation was made at the Association for Educational Communications and Technology (AECT) Annual Meeting in Atlanta, GA. CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.

Anne Campbell, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, presented a paper entitled: "Needs-based Culturally Relevant Developmental Reading/Writing Courses." Campbell presented at the National Indian Education Conference in Billings, MT on October 27, 2001. CONTACT: Campbell at acampbell@wsu.edu or at 509-335-5015.

Gerald Maring, professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, presented a paper entitled: "Cyber Mentoring K-12 Students with Content Literacy Strategies: 13 Online Inservice/Preservice Teacher Partnerships." Maring was the Featured Technology Speaker at the 46th Annual Convention of the International Reading Association in New Orleans, LA on May 2, 2001. CONTACT: Maring at maring@wsu.edu or at 509-335-5651.

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, co-presented two papers entitled: "Why PT3?: The Impact of Educational Technology Upon Student Achievement" and "What's in it for Me?: Providing Incentives to Drive Local and Institutional Change." Brown presented at the Preparing Tomorrow's Teachers to Use Technology (PT3) Annual Meeting in Washington, DC on August 3, 2001. CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.

Anne Campbell, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, presented a paper entitled: "Preserving Native Languages and Cultures: Ideas for Analyzing Community Needs, Issues, Strengths, and Resources." Campbell presented at the Native Languages and Cultures Regional Conference 2001 in Spokane, WA on October 10, 2001. CONTACT: Campbell at acampbell@wsu.edu or at 509-335-5015.

Amy Roth McDuffie, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning at WSU Tri-Cities, co-presented three papers at the Twenty-Third Annual Meeting of the North American Chapter of the International Group for the Psychology of Mathematics Education in Snowbird, UT. The papers are entitled: "Problem Solving in Mathematics: Barriers to Problem-centered Learning," "Equivalence: Concept Building in a Fifth Grade Classroom," and "Cooperative Learning in a Fifth Grade English as a Second Language Mathematics Class." CONTACT: McDuffie at mcduffie@tricity.wsu.edu or at 509-372-7384.

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, presented a paper entitled: "Multimedia Production in the Classroom: Tips, Tricks and Helpful Hints." Brown presented at the National Educational Computing Conference (NECC 2001) in Chicago, IL. CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.

Anne Campbell, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, presented two papers entitled: "Pullout Programs: Do they work?" and "Developing an ESL Academic Bridge Curriculum for Community College Students." Campbell presented at the Washington State Association for the Education of Speakers of Other Languages in Ellensburg, WA. CONTACT: Campbell at acampbell@wsu.edu or at 509-335-5015.

Amy Roth McDuffie, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning at WSU Tri-Cities, presented a paper entitled: "Process Standards and Content and Test Preparation: How do we do it all?" McDuffie presented at the Northwest Mathematics Conference in Bellevue, WA in October 2001. CONTACT: McDuffie at mcduffie@tricity.wsu.edu or at 509-372-7384.

Abbie Brown, assistant professor in the Department of Teaching and Learning, co-presented a paper entitled: "Multimedia Projects in the K-12 Classroom: Current Practices and Critical Issues." Brown presented at the Association for Educational Communications and Technology (AECT) Annual Meeting in Atlanta, GA. CONTACT: Brown at abbie_brown@wsu.edu or at 509-335-1631.